Summer Trombone Lessons

Mr. JaQuan
Wiley

Lesson Rates:

30 minutes—$20

1 hour—$40

Students are welcome to take more than one lesson a week, if desired.

JaQuan is a Junior Music Education major at Appalachian State University and has been playing trombone for, now, ten years. In his musical tenure, he has performed in numerous honors ensembles, the Lexington Youth Theatre Orchestra, the High Point University Wind Ensemble, the High Point University Pep Band, church ensembles (chamber and orchestra), and concert and jazz ensembles while at East Davidson High School. While at Appalachian, he has been a member of the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Fraternity (Executive board position), Appalachian Trombone Choir, Appalachian Marching Mountaineers, Appalachian Symphony Band, National Band Association (Executive board position), and National Association for Music Education. He is a private lesson student of Dr. Drew Leslie. JaQuan has been the only undergraduate student in the Hayes School of Music to ever conduct the Appalachian State University Wind Ensemble. He currently holds the position of Vice-President/President-Elect for the Collegiate North Carolina Music Education Association.
